SIMONA PALUMBO

MULTILINGUAL ITALIAN SONGWRITER

BIO

Italian singer and songwriter Simona Palumbo began her artistic career as a dancer in the 1980s, before moving into the music scene as a jazz and Bossa Nova singer in the 1990s. She later developed her own original Latin music project, featuring songs inspired by Mediterranean and South American sounds and performed in Italian, Brazilian Portuguese and Spanish.

She has worked in the recording industry since the 2000s, collaborating with record labels and digital and artistic music production companies. Over the years, she has released EPs, singles and albums ranging from original Latin music to English-language electropop.
